Discover DIY is back!

Discover DIY, our monthly adult crafting night, is back! Participants will receive a kit of all the supplies they will need and then, on December 15th, at 7pm, we will be having a Zoom meeting where Zoe will lead you through how to make each craft. Want to join in on the crafting fun? Give the library a call at (603) 642-8333 or send us an email at ekpublib@comcast.net

The Giving Tree COMPLETE

For the first time ever, all of the tags off the giving tree are gone before the first of December. We'd like to express our heartfelt THANK YOU to those who took a tag. You've made someone's holiday a special one.

If you weren't able to grab a tag but would still like to donate, we have plenty of envelopes for donations to NHs homeless vets population. Call or email for more information.

Virtual Library

COVID-19 has changed the way lots of places have to do things, and the library is no different. We've done a bit of updating to our website, with more to come.

Now, you can view tiny snippets of the different sections of the library, complete with librarian bitmojis! You can find all of our COVID rules and regulations, as well as all of our accessible-from-home resources. Visit www.eastkingstonlibrary.org for more.

"...for some of us, books are as important as anything else on earth. What a miracle it is that out of these small, flat rigid pieces of paper unfolds world after world, worlds that sing to you comfort and quiet you or excite you. Books help us understand who we are and how we are to behave. They show us what community and friendship mean; they show us how to live and die. They are full of the things that you don't get in life...wonderful, lyrical language, for instance. And quality of attention: we may notice amazing details during the course of a day but we rarely let ourselves stop and really pay attention. An author makes you notice, makes you pay attention and this is a great gift. My gratitude for good writing is unbounded; I am grateful for it the way I'm grateful for the ocean.

-Anne Lamott

We wish you a happy and healthy
New Year.
